MATERIA CAPSULE COLLECTION

BY MASQUESPACIO

Materia (Matter) is a collection that takes its inspiration from physical science. Materia in this sense is described as a substance that has mass and takes up space with its volume. Everyday objects in this sense are made out of atoms and any particles. Although it seems that the atoms don't make the same forms as with those everyday objects and can in this sense create forms with unusual and undefined sizes and positions. The collection designed by Masquespacio hereby contains a serie of furniture and lighting items created out of forms that look a little bit surreal and outer space. Others like for the lamps with its organic forms make us think about nature on another planet, although all of them are brought to real life through its contrast of daily lifestyle materials. Materia, a collection of mass and volume, mixing materials, to be seen and to be touched.

1.

1. Wooden ball chair round

The wooden ball chair is a contrasting piece of soft material (fabric) with a harder material (wood). The round form of the ball is a reference to our planet while it breaks with a stone form made of fabric that reminds us of different objects flying around in space and hanging together without any sense.

2. Matter chair

In all its beauty the Matter chair is the perfect representation of the collection itself, with its mix of materials, forms and volumes

4. Branch lamp hanging

The branch lamp collections stands out for its particular forms that make us remember of the branch of a tree. An unusual form for a lamp design.

5. Atomic wood stool

As its name by itself defines this collection of tables and stools looks like being made by different atomics hanging together without any sense, but at the same time making a beautiful and unique form through its volume, shapes and material contrasts.

6. Marble table lamp big

One of nature's most beautiful matter is without a doubt marble. This set of tables in this sense is an ode to one of the most beautiful materials on earth.

7. Branch wall lamp

The branch lamp collections stands out for its particular forms that make us remember of the branch of a tree. An unusual form for a lamp design.

8. Body chair

Like if it were a body, but in an unreal way and size the Body chair represents a particular person, maybe it is perfect with its new shapes or maybe it looks a little bit outer space.

9. Volume chair

How much space an object or substance takes up many times defines its impact in an environment. The Volume chair, although with its huge and unreal mass, is the stand-out piece in any interior design that will catch your attention from far away.

10. Nature chair

With its organic and round forms, the nature chair is a clear reference to our Mother Earth.
